JAKARTA - The Directorate of Special Economic Crimes, Criminal Investigation Unit of National Police, has finished examining 8 whistleblowers in cases of alleged fraud under the guise of Binomo binary options trading. The results of the examination, the reported party is said to have promised a profit of up to 85 percent.

"Promising a profit of 80 to 85 percent of the value or open trade funds determined by each trader or victim," said the Director of Special Economic Crimes at the National Police-Criminal Investigation Department Brigadier General Whisnu Hermawan in his statement, Thursday, February 10.

The reported parties, in this case, are the affiliates. Where one of them is Indra Kesuma alias Indra Kenz. In addition, from the results of the examination of the complainants, this alleged fraud was carried out in April 2020. Affiliates use social media to promote the Binomo trading application.

Moreover, affiliates also on social media say that Binomo is legal in Indonesia. "There are various modes, one of which is by looking at the promotions spread by the reported IK and friends via YouTube, Instagram, Telegram by offering profits through the Binomo trading application (Binary Options)," said Whisnu.

"That Binomo is legal and official in Indonesia is evidence on the reported YouTube and also the reported party teaches trading strategies in the application and continues to show off its profit results," he continued.

Eight people reported the Binomo trading application to the Criminal Investigation Police of the Indonesian National Police. They suffered losses of hundreds of millions each. If the total loss reaches IDR 2.4 billion.

Hello Vita,

How are you? What are you doing this New Year's Eve? Marita and I have decided to hold a party at home this year and we'd love it if you could come. We're planning a small party with our old school friends, so you'll know all of the guests. There'll be lots to eat and drink.

We've decided to have a Balinese themed party, with lots of spicy food. You'll probably be coming by train, won't you? Just give us a ring from the station and I'll pick you up. As the party will be quite late, you'll need to stay the night. Don't worry, there's plenty of room for everybody. Well, I really hope you can make it. It seems like ages since we last saw each other. Please let me know as soon as possible.

Lots of love,
Bagus

Why does Bagus send the letter?
What should Vita do when she arrives in the station?

Jakarta (ANTARA) - President Joko Widodo has pressed for support for vaccine development in Indonesia in a bid to speed up the availability of vaccines as the COVID-19 pandemic ploughs on.

"Currently, the vaccines being developed in the country, include the Red and White vaccine and the Nusantara (Archipelago) Vaccine, which we need to continuously support," the head of state emphasized in Jakarta, Friday.

Widodo highlighted the significance of research and development in the areas of medications and vaccines to attain pharmaceutical independence in the wake of the ongoing pandemic.

"We must also accelerate the availability of vaccines amid the COVID-19 pandemic," he stressed.

The president underscored the importance of innovation as the key to the development of countries, including Indonesia, which necessitated promoting and supporting all innovations.

The Ministry of Research and Technology and Ministry of Health had earlier inked a memorandum of understanding (MoU) for cooperation on developing Indonesia's indigenous Red and White vaccine on March 4.

Research and Technology Minister and head of the National Research and Innovation Agency (BRIN) Bambang P. S. Brodjonegoro remarked that the MoUs were a form of collaboration for supporting the acceleration of the Red and White vaccine's development to help the nation achieve vaccine self-sufficiency.

Indonesia has commenced its vaccination campaign with the administration of China's Sinovac COVID-19 vaccine. The country also recently received over 1.1 million doses of AstraZeneca shots under the multilateral COVAX initiative.

Hi Sophie,

I'm writing this from the cutest little café in New York. I feel like I'm with friends! Mom's been making sure we don't miss one sight in the whole city, so we've been walking practically all day. So far, we've seen Times Square, Broadway, Central Park, and The Plaza. I caught a glimpse of the Statue of Liberty but we're going to go and see it properly tomorrow!

The streets are super busy here and everyone looks amazing in their winter coats and hats. I miss being able to feel my fingers! Hope you're enjoying your holidays.

Miss you times a million, see you back in Adelaide on the 20th.

Love,
Ashley

What is the letter about?

Read the text and answer the following question.

China's richest man celebrated his 50th birthday last week in the United States and expects his company will last twice as long. Revealing his ambition, Jack Ma says Alibaba will last 102 years, so the internet empire he founded in 1999 can span three centuries. Under Ma's maverick leadership, the 15 year old firm has already bridged a period of extraordinary changes in global trade and the Chinese economy.

His rags to riches journey is just as spectacular. A scrawny Ma, just over 5 feet tall, was rejected by KFC and other employers in his hometown of Hangzhou in East China. He believed in the internet's business potential when few other Chinese people did. Outlandish ideas earned him the nickname "Crazy Jack Ma". No one thinks he's mad now, even when dressing in wild wigs and lipstick for his annual meeting where he serenades a stadium full of Alibaba employees. Ma's readiness to make fun of himself and speak his mind, stands in contrast to China's often conservative corporate barons. Charismatic and energetic, this former teacher has become an inspiration to millions across China. He flunked math but loved English, and countless books and DVDs sell his business lessons in every airport lounge.

What was Jack Ma previous job?

Select one:

- A teacher.
- A salesman.
- A DVD seller.
- A waiter.
